PLAINTIFFS' OBJECTIONS TO THE AUGUST 20, 2007 DECISION OF THE SPECIAL MASTER

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 53(g), Nokia Corporation and Nokia Inc. (collectively "Nokia") hereby file their Objections to the decision of Special Master Seitz issued on August 20, 2007, in which he refused to temporarily stay discovery proceedings regarding two InterDigital patents (out of the hundreds of patents subject to discovery in this dispute). A temporary stay of discovery regarding these two patents, which InterDigital has recently put at issue in other litigation, would cause no prejudice to InterDigital Communications Corp. and InterDigital Technology Corp. (collectively "InterDigital"). Moreover, such a limited stay is necessary to avoid prejudice to Nokia and to conserve judicial resources.

Accordingly, for the reasons set forth in Nokia's Brief in Support, the Special Master erred in refusing to issue a temporary stay of discovery regarding two InterDigital patents that currently are at issue in other litigation. Nokia respectfully requests that the Special Master's decision on this issue be reversed and that, with respect to these two patents, the Court enter a temporary stay of discovery sufficient to prevent unnecessary prejudice to Nokia and to appropriately conserve judicial resources.
